

What have you done for justice today?

In America, you can hope for justice, or expect justice, or assume that justice will occur. Or you can get involved to help ensure that justice truly happens.

Justice occurs only when crime victims and survivors are informed of their rights, involved in criminal and juvenile justice processes, and offered supportive services to help them cope with the aftermath of crime.

Answer the call to justice for all. Volunteer for crime victims.

Without crime victims, there would be no justice.

Without crime victims reporting to police, there would be no arrests.

Without crime victims who serve as witnesses, there would be few trials.

Without crime victims speaking out, we wouldn't understand the devastating impact of crime.

Without crime victims, there would be no justice in the criminal and juvenile justice systems.

Victim justice is at the core of justice in America. If you are a victim of crime, there is help available. If you are concerned about ensuring justice in America, you can volunteer for victims.

Commit an act of justice.

Every day in every community, people who become victims of crime are denied their legal rights and access to services they need to cope with the aftermath of crime. Such injustice is possible only when good people fail to speak up, fail to act, and fail to demand justice for crime victims.

Don't be part of the silent majority who only support victims in theory.

Support victims in fact with an act.

Commit an act of justice today.

What if crime put you in this line?

Take a Number Please.

Last year, over 24 million Americans were victimized by crime. Our community offers supportive services to crime victims, regardless of the type of crime, who they are, or where they live. You, too, can help heal the hurt caused by crime. To ensure that supportive services are available for all citizens victimized by crime, support your local victim assistance programs.

When crime has you at the end of your line, call ours.

In the aftermath of a crime, victims may feel helpless and hopeless. The emotional, physical, financial and spiritual impact of crime can be, at times, overwhelming.

Often, those injured and assaulted and murdered are our mothers and fathers, sons and daughters, sisters and brothers, neighbors and friends.

One crime can have many victims.

Help is available.
